

Security Survey & Planning

Henderson Risk Limited, through comprehensive security survey and planning, helps shape and build security to protect clients' business, people and profits against terrorism, kidnap, violent crime and other threats present in the environment in which they operate.

HRL runs security operations in diverse sectors and environments, including current and post conflict regions and areas facing the threat of natural hazards or violence. Physical security measures can be expensive, particularly if implemented as an afterthought.

HRL's comprehensive security surveys will ensure that client costs are reduced and maintained at a minimum by incorporating security into every stage of the planning process, resulting in the delivery of cost effective and appropriate security measures.

SERVICES

- Threat Assessment: Detailed security risk analysis identifies potential threats to the client's business, the likelihood of these threats occurring and the potential impact if they occur.
- Security Survey: HRL's Security Surveyors will quickly be able to identify vulnerabilities to specific threats both on- and off-site and assess the suitability and effectiveness of existing controls.
- Detailed Report & Recommendations: A detailed report will present, explain and justify HRL's security survey assessment, findings and recommendations and provide you with a robust security plan ready for implementation in-house, by a third party security provider, or by HRL.

- Embedded Security Consultants can be provided to exercise regular testing to ensure the correct implementation of the security plan and the preparedness of the client's employees.
